FSY November Week 1: Truth Will Make You Free

WHERE THIS FITS

Use this episode alongside the fast Sunday discussion that opens the month: Truth Will Make You Free.

TRY THIS: PASS IT ON

Materials: a three-foot piece of rope or cord for each person, and printed step-by-step directions for tying a bowline knot. Learn the knot yourself before class.
Give two volunteers a rope and the written directions only. Allow sixty seconds. Most get stuck. Then show one volunteer how to tie it, hands on. Have that volunteer teach the next person, and keep passing it down the line until everyone can tie it.
Tag line: “Getting stuck was part of learning. So was letting someone show you. Now every person in this room can teach it to somebody else. That's one reason God wants you to keep learning.”

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

- Tell us about a time you used something you learned to help someone.
- Read Doctrine and Covenants 88:118 together. What does it look like to seek learning “by study and also by faith” in something you're learning right now?
- The FSY guide says to “be the same faithful follower of Jesus Christ in public and in private.” Where is that hardest for people your age, and what helps?
- “If I'm praying for help, why do I still feel like I'm failing?”

FROM THIS MONTH'S FSY GUIDE: WEEK 1

- Why does God want you to learn about Him and the world around you?
- What should you do when you have questions?

CLOSING CHALLENGE

Invite everyone to pick one thing they're learning that feels hard, tell Heavenly Father where they're stuck, and find someone who can show them the next step. Ask a few people to be ready to share what they learned next time.
