FSY November Week 3: Truth Will Make You Free

WHERE THIS FITS

Use this episode alongside the week your class learns more about the search for truth.
Youth may bring real questions about Church teachings or history. Preach My Gospel counsels, "If people have questions or concerns, first seek to understand them clearly." Offer to study together, privately if they prefer.

TRY THIS: POINT NORTH

Materials: a compass, or a phone with a compass app.
Ask everyone to close their eyes and point north, raising their other hand if they feel confident. Eyes open. Arms point every direction, plenty with hands raised. Check the compass together. Tag line: "Lots of us felt sure. The compass showed which way north actually is. When you have a question, God has given you reliable places to look: the scriptures, His prophets, faithful leaders and family members, and Him."

DISCUSSION QUESTIONS

- Tell us about a time you asked someone a question about God or the gospel. What did that person do that helped you?
- President Dieter F. Uchtdorf described the information around us as "some of it true, some of it false, and much of it partially true." What questions could you ask to check where a post or video about the Church came from?
- The FSY guide says, "Keep living by what you already know, and keep seeking for truth." What does that look like while you're still waiting for an answer?
- "I have a question about the Church, but I'm afraid people will think I'm losing my faith if I ask it. How do I bring it up?"

FROM THIS MONTH'S FSY GUIDE: WEEK 3

- Where does truth come from?
- What if you have questions? Read Joseph Smith–History 1:5–6, 10–13. What do you learn from his example of seeking answers to his questions?
- Why do you have to keep learning?

CLOSING CHALLENGE

Invite everyone to write down one sincere question about God or the gospel, take it to Heavenly Father in prayer, and choose one next step. Let them know you're glad to study it with them if they'd like.
